

Bachelor of Arts

BA

Studio Art Concentration

120 credits

Following the degree requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, a Bachelor of Arts degree promotes a broader educational experience for those who are interested in a wider field of options after graduation. This degree allows room for a minor in another discipline and easily combines with double majors in other areas such as English, Journalism, Psychology, etc. While the BA with a concentration in Studio Art is not usually the preferred preparation for moving on to the Master of Fine Arts degree, it is quite appropriate for seeking other advanced degrees, especially in the Liberal Arts or other similar programs.
